MONDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 2.

The agent of the Associated Press telegraphs that the order of Gen. Grant that district commanders will make no appointments to civil office of persons who have been removed by themselves or their predecessors in command, does not make a new issue between him and the President. "There is good authority for asserting that the rumo s of difficulties having debt which is to appear early this week. ariser on this subject are groundless. The reconstruction acts vest in the general commandupon district commanders in regard to removals and appointments, and therefore the order of General Grant is considered merely as a nosuch appointments as he indicates."

Joseph N. Jolliffe has been appointed register at large for the county of Frederick, in place of A. A. Crane, suspended; and David W. Branson has been appointed register for the first magisterial district, in place of Henry V. Willis, suspended. The susponsions were made by order of Gen. Schofield, in consequence of a failure to obey his instructions.

The Charlottesville Chronicle counsels"moderation" on the part of the Southern press. Excellent advice, The evils that we suffer will not be curred by harsh and violent language. Moderation is the word. Not silence, when words are necessary-but no bitter words for the mere sake of bitterness.

Senator Cameron, of Pennsylvania, is in Washington, "and has been in conference with Gen. Grant." The Washington Chronicle says that "at this interview political subjects were discussed at length, and General Grant ex pressed decidedly Radical sentiments."

GOV. PEIRPOINT. - We gave, last week, what we considered a fair, candid and legitimate criticism of Gov. Peirpoint's speech in Harrisonburg on Court day. But we could not convey fully to the mind of those who did not hear him, anything like an accurate idea of his remarks. Some idea of what he said may be gathered from a solitary remark he made, that "Jesus Christ was a Radical." Only think of that! - Rockingham Register.

The Case of Gen. Sickles. It was decided at the Cabinet meeting on Friday that the record of the facts and the application of the law to the same, preceding the removal of General Sickles, should be made public in the shape prepared by the Acting Attorney General. When the military obstructed the enforcement of the civil process from the U. S. Court in North Carolina, Gen. Grant telegraphed to General Siekles asking for a medification of his order No. 10, so that the execution of a process issued by Chief Justice Chase could be enforced.

Gen. S. replied, asking Gen. Grant to hold in abeyance his request until he (Sickles) could write out the facts in the case. This was done, and the order No. 10 continued in force. In the meantime the process of the court was again resisted by the military. The U. S. District Attorney was then directed by the At torney General to procure an indictment against Gen. Sickles for a violation of the criminal laws in resisting the process of a U. S. court. To this he replies very bitterly to General Grant, and declares that he is not amendable to grand juries, U. S. marshals, or U. S. district attorneys, while he is in command of a military dis trict created by act of Congress, and in which the powers of military commanders are defined. But the responsibility which appears to me to arise on such an occasion, where the physical power of the offender is great, is that for the sole Executive to suffer the judiciary to be overthrown in any case would be potentially to overthrow himself, and therefore I am solemuly impressed with the belief that unless the President promptly represses the contumacy the Crimea.
